OVERDOSE PREVENTION & RESPONSE

International Overdose Awareness Day

"More than five years ago the Government of BC declared a state of emergency in response to the toxic drug supply, yet the crisis still continues and is getting much worse. The province has seen an increase in both the number of lives saved by implementing harm reduction approaches and, tragically, an increase in the number of lives lost."

Yesterday (August 31) was International Overdose Awareness Day (IOAD). To continue reading this article, visit the First Nations Health Authority. To learn more about IOAD and its ongoing campaigns, please visit the International Overseide Awareness Day website.

YOUR HEALTH, A PRIORITY

Help Shape the Future of First Nations Health Governance in BC

"The [First Nations Health Authority (FNHA)] invites all First Nations people in BC to share their voices to help guide the development of the BC Tripartite Framework Agreement on First Nations Health Governance."

For more information, including dates and links for Zoom focus group meetings and surveys, please continue reading this article.

Community toolkit digital COVID-19 resource for community partners.

Wash your hands often with warm running water and soap for at least 20 seconds.

Avoid contact, keep a safe distance of at least 2 meters from others, and limit your movements to reduce contagion.
